

Our Role in the Community

- We help to reduce the impact of trauma which can be helpful at the point of crisis and in the long term
- We support and work with the multi-cultural community of York Region through our diverse staff and use of professional interpreters
- We work in the community to prevent violence against women and to promote healthy relationships
- We deliver our services based on the principles of empowerment
- We approach our prevention activities through the use of education and advocacy
- We believe every person experiences the impact of a crime or tragedy in a unique way. Equally, we believe that these experiences need to be shared in a safe, secure, supportive and non-judgemental environment.
